NOTE: All meals must be consumed on location and cannot be taken off site. The SFSP was established to ensure that children in needy areas could continue to receive nutritious meals during school vacation. Around 14 million children nationwide depend on free or reduced-price lunches and breakfasts for 9 months of the year. Free meals are provided to all children between the ages of 1 and 18 at USDA approved open or enrolled sites with significant concentrations of low-income children. The US Department of Agriculture's Food and Nutrition Service administers the SFSP at the national level, and the Office of Human Affairs sponsors the program within Newport News.
